

Roger and Marilyn Line Home
425 Emerald Drive

When Roger and Marilyn Line purchased their condo in 1998, Emerald Isle Condominiums was still being developed and was under construction. This meant that they could choose their lot and design the interior of their condo the way they wanted it. Consequently, they have an open floor plan with a customized kitchen that features a large breakfast bar, an open stairway that lets light into the basement that blends well with the main floor, a fabulous master bedroom walk-in closet containing a washer and dryer, a guest suite on the lower level, maximization of storage space, and exceptional landscaping.

When you approach the home, entry will be through the garage. This is so that you can view the delightful picket fence garden scene painted on the garage walls by Marilyn.

Roger is a woodworker with a basement workshop that contains his much-loved Shopsmith where he makes all kinds of furniture, kitchen stools, and arts & crafts items for himself and others. Marilyn is an artist/crafter with a well-equipped mini-studio where she loves to paint her many projects in water colors, acrylic, and oils. As you walk through this home, his wood projects, her art projects, and their joint projects will have yellow stickers on them so you can see all that they have done to add to the ambience of their home. Both will have albums on display with pictures of their many projects. Also, be on the lookout for the antique bird cage collection, and a sprinkling of other antiques.

They truly enjoy condo living, which includes the nice neighbors and having the opportunity to maintain the landscaping immediately adjacent to the home. Also, the "turn-key" advantage of being able to leave whenever they want without having to worry about lawn mowing or snow shoveling makes this their idea of ideal retirement living.
