

GFWC – Charlotte

CLUB COMMUNICATOR

VOLUME XII NUMBER 3

November, 2008

CAROL McCLOUD, AUTHOR, SPOKE AT OUR NOVEMBER MEETING ON, "HAVE YOU FILLED A BUCKET TODAY?"

She told of the positive effects of being a "bucket filler" – giving complements to others, calling people by name, connecting with others, etc. When doing so, one gets their own bucket filled. Avoid being a "bucket dipper," i.e., having a negative attitude, being mean to others, not being respectful to others, etc. She said that once and a while one needs to put a lid on their bucket to keep the dippers out! She has written books for children and has been an educator for many years. For more information or to sign up for her weekly newsletter, go to her website: www.bucketfillers101.com Carol is from Brighton, MI.

Brynda Filkins shares this:

After the meeting on Friday, Carol took her two books to Amanda Pearsal and donated them to the library. Those who didn't purchase a book will now be able to take them out of the library. Carol will be sending GFWC-Charlotte a check for a bit over $100, as her way of giving back a portion of the book sales. Her newsletters are brief and inspiring. She will mention our club and the Filkins family Thanksgiving tradition in the November 23, 2008 edition.

Innisbrook Fundraiser

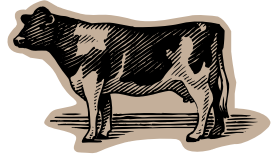

Dear Fellow Club Members:

Thank you for your support of the Innisbrook Fundraiser. The profit this year of approximately $313.00 will help to support our many programs.

GIFT SUGGESTION:

GFWC-Charlotte supports the efforts of Heifer International, which is a non-profit organization that provides livestock to families in third world countries. Do you have a family member or friend on your Christmas shopping list who is difficult to shop for? Would a donation in their name be a welcome solution? We will be collecting donations at the December Tea and special gift cards have been ordered. All donations are tax deductible. Cynthia Siarny, Chair

BOARD TALK - MARY REMENAK

Thank you, dear members, to all you who have generously given your support to our Club during the previous few months, a challenging time for our Club. I take note and will remember each one of you who gave me extra support.

December 5, 2008 brings us one of my favorite meetings of the year, our Annual Christmas Tea. In keeping with tradition, we honor our Past Presidents and new members. Our outstanding Chorus will bring holiday cheer with their performance. And, the cookies are always so yummy!

In the spirit of the giving season, we will again ask for donations for the SIREN/Eaton Shelter. Nola graciously accepts them until December 15 at the Ski Loft. You may also bring donations to the Tea. Last year, your generous donations to Heifer International enabled us to purchase a cow, a pig, and a flock of chickens! In full recognition of the financial uncertainty in our country, I think of our sisters and brothers around the world, whose burdens will be eased by our giving.

Club and community recognitions are given at this time of year. We will present the Woman of Achievement at our Tea. If you have nominations for Ms. Federation, the Athena and Community Excellence awards, please contact me.

Year-end reports are due by December 15. If you have been a Committee, Department, Project, or Program Chairperson from January 2008 to December 2008, please complete and return to me ASAP.

Holidays are special for family, friends, and spirit filled moments and FOOD! My holiday gift to you.....

I hate it so much!
Whenever, I try it...
It turns into mush!

Tea and Tomes Book Discussion Group welcomes you to join us this month in an unusual and exciting meeting. On November 25, in the Spartan Room of the Charlotte Community Library, from 1:00-2:30, we will be discussing several books on Polygamy. This topic has been in the news and in television programs recently and we will be taking a look at the history, practices, and pain of polygamy. We will not be reading the same book, but will be reading from a prepared book list on this topic. If you would like the book list, email brynda@usa.net, and then pick a book from the list that interests you. Many of the books on the list are autobiographical and give an inside view and perspective of the practice--and devastation to women and children. Tea and refreshments will be served.

PEEK: There is no Tea and Tomes meeting in December, but we will be Alexander McCall Smith's book, The No.1 Ladies Detective Agency in More information and multiple copies of the book to come in December.

of the SNEAK reading January.

If you are still looking for a book for Nov. 25, here is another source:

If anyone in the book club would like to borrow any of my "Mormon" books to read, let me know. I have one dating to the late 1800's written by a former lady who was a plural wife. Most of them are about King Jesse James Strang of Beaver Island, a self-proclaimed Mormon king. Just as long as they are returned to me, I would lend them out.

APRIL BROOKS (JOE)

April is a Michigan native and has lived here all but seven months of her life. Ypsilanti is her home town. After graduating from Ypsilanti High School, she earned a B.S. in Geology from Eastern Michigan University and did graduate work there in Physical Geography. April has been a resident of Charlotte since 1983.

Always loving the out-of-doors, nature, and travel led her to her choice of study and to Alaska. April shares, "I had always wanted to see Alaska, so to do so, I took a job packing crab in the Aleutian Islands. A few months later I was substitute teaching in the local school. My trip to Alaska lasted seven months." Another place she loves to visit is the Great Smokey Mountain National Park.

After returning to Michigan, April went to work as a geologist for the Michigan Department of Transportation. While there, she conducted geophysical surveys and environmental investigations for MDOT. During this time, she married her husband, Joe, moved to Charlotte and gave birth to their son, Joseph. When their son was a preschooler, April left MDOT to become a stay-at-home mom. After Joseph was in grade school, she became the librarian at St. Mary's School and volunteered/ worked there for 13 years. Currently, she is an Adjunct Instructor at Olivet College, primarily teaching an Introduction to Geology course. April says, "Volunteer work has always been a part of my life. Currently, I give talks about Geology to school groups, deliver Mobile Meals (approximately 13 years) and volunteer at my church."

April's hobbies are reading and sewing. Her husband and she are avid recyclers. Additionally, they do a lot of gardening and can/freeze much of their produce. Presently, she is the President of Across the Square Quilters and has been actively involved in this group for 11 years.
